About

- I was born into a military family which set up the rules and regulations of life. Everything had to be perfection, and I needed to follow my dad's footsteps. He was the boss of the first 7 astronauts in the Mercury Space Program, plus the test pilot and a flight instructor. I had some big shoes to fill.

I was drafted out of University for Vietnam, and came back with PTSD. I'm doing all this art and stuff to keep from hurting other people and myself.

Artist Statement

The reason I make art is - it brings me a lot of pleasure. I have a lot of built up emotions and anger from my War experience. Shall I say, as a result, I find peace and balance by doing my art.

The leather was my first area in the most recent years and moved in to other forms.

I did a lot of art as a young kid. I sold my first piece of art age 15 for $50 to a neighbor and I just had the drive ever since. I have put a lot of time into it recently and done a lot of it. Excited to be doing art again and be able to share it and my story with others.
